DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 44,60-70 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 44 and 68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Liddicoat et al. US PN 6,942,694.
4. Liddicoat et al. disclose in figures 15-22 and c5:63-c7:27 an annuloplasty band comprising collapsible member (320), shortening device (370), mesh (300), and coupling devices (sutures described at c5:63-66). The extended position is shown in figure 20 and short position is shown in figure 22. Note claims 44 and 68 do not positively claim a catheter for delivering the collapsible member, and the collapsible member disclosed by Liddicoat meets the claimed intended use because it is capable of insertion through a catheter.

5. Claims 60-70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Brock et al. US PUB 2002/0087169.

Brock et al. disclose in figures 28-40 and paragraphs 249-284 a device for performing catheter based annuloplasty comprising plurality of fasteners, catheter having guidewire, elongate tensioning element having a locking feature thereon (which may comprise a knot, the tensioning element collapsible member (320), and expandable member (balloon). Regarding claim 68 the collapsible member may comprise the combination of rings and tensioning element 120 of figure 29, the shortening device may comprise a computer element or surgeon (not shown) that determines the proper tension, and the plurality of coupling devices may comprise the barbs attached to rings 125. Figures 31 and 36-37 show the barbed ends comprising T-bars.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
